Gibson Was No Better

CURIOUS COINCIDENCES

Have Come to Light Tending to Show Gibson's Connection
With Other Crimes

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Burton W. Gibson, the New York lawyer, who was arrested at his office on a charge of murdering his client, Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo, was locked up Thursday night in a cell at police headquarters, to wait arraignment. His self-confidence and jauntyness fled with his arrival here.

Deputy Sheriff DeGraw took his prisoner, not to the jail, but to a hotel, when he reached here and had prepared to have him spend the night there, when County Judge Royce, who issued the warrant for Gibson's arrest, reached town shortly after 10 o'clock and ordered Gibson to jail.

"I heard about Gibson's trip to Middletown," Judge Royce said, "all the way home from Albany. It seemed to be in the nature of a free show. There is no reason why he should be treated differently from any other prisoner. Lock him up in jail and keep him there until the arraignment."

Besides the Szabo tragedy, there has been a chain of curious coincidences linking Gibson's name with cases of sudden death or disappearance of clients of the lawyer or of persons connected in one way or another with cases in which he was interested. The first of four such coincidences occurred when Mrs. Alice C. Kinnan, daughter of an aged woman whose property Gibson handled, was murdered at her home in the Bronx. The murder mystery was never solved. Gibson was held pending an investigation, but was released on a habeas corpus writ and he recently brought suit for false arrest.

Then, continuing the curious chain, a witness at the Kinnan inquest, Michael Shippo, was found drowned in a shallow creek, and Geo. J. Malcom, a Wall street broker and relative of the Kinnan family, who had fought Gibson for the control of the estate, was drowned in Long Island Sound from a steamboat.

Gibson talked all the way up from New York about the case against him and outlined his defense in detail.

"The name of the woman I am charged with slaying," he said, "is not Szabo. It is Ritter; further, she is not the Viennese Mrs. Ritter at all. My client was beginning to show the advance of age. She wanted to come up to Greenwood Lake and at her invitation I accompanied her. We were rowing on the lake and there came up a thunderstorm. I rowed under a boathouse and Mrs. Ritter became confused and stepped out of the boat into two feet of water. That was the first time we came up here but it convinced me that I would have to be on my guard against a repetition of the accident."

"The next time we went rowing, several days later, on the occasion of another visit to Greenwood Lake, we had on our bathing suits. I was in the end of the boat and Mrs. Ritter wanted to change seats. She was sitting in the other end. The boat was round bottomed. She got up and started towards me. I hadn't stood up but was just half way out of my seat when the boat suddenly tipped and we both went into the water."

"Mrs. Ritter was between me and the boat and although she could swim a little I saw that she was in trouble and went to aid her. She was struggling to reach the boat, apparently, and when I went to help her I grasped her. We went down together. She had me around the neck with her arms and her legs were around my waist. I got free of her but I am quite sure that I did nothing more than break her hold. I did not strike her or harm her in any way—of that I am sure. All this was under the water. When I came to the surface I thought I saw Mrs. Ritter, but it may have been only her bathing cap."

"I am convinced now that I have made two mistakes in this matter; first in failing to take it seriously until today, and second, in not being represented at the autopsy. I believe that the three or four doctors who performed the autopsy will be fair-minded but I am very much afraid that they will be slightly inclined to prejudice because of these other cases of sudden death which my name has been coupled with."

WOMEN MASQUERADED AS MEN
TARRED GIRL IN HURON COUNTY

Norwalk, Ohio, Sept. 13.—All Huron county was convulsed with excitement today when details of a tarring party in which a Clarksville girl was the victim of eight married women dressed in men's clothing became known. The incident took place Sunday night and it is said the girl was alleged to have been flirtatious with several men of the town. She was induced to go walking shortly after dusk by three members of the party. A short way up the road five other women in male attire joined them. Going to a lonely spot along the road the girl was stripped and the tar administered. Afterwards she was warned to leave town or "worse would follow." The girl has disappeared.

New York lawyer, on the charge of murdering his client, Mrs. Rosa Szabo, in Greenwood Lake on July 16, was postponed today to Sept. 24. The postponement was granted on application of District Attorney Rogers.

CAR SHORTAGE IS BEING FELT

According to the statement of local railroad officials Newark shippers are beginning to feel the inconveniences of the car shortage, incidental to the moving of the enormous crops in the west. It is said that large shippers, such as the Wehrle company and The American Bottle company have been unable to secure the cars necessary for their shipments, and other local concerns are experiencing similar difficulties.

"One of the main troubles," said the railroad, "is the tendency that some small shippers have of tying up the

BLAME PLACED ON TARIFF

Sees Need of Surgery on the Tariff But Cautions Against
"Quacks."

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Governor Woodrow Wilson promised surgical treatment of the tariff system if elected President, in a speech here Thursday at the State Fair before the largest crowd that yet has gathered to hear him in his presidential campaign. Governor Dix, United States Senator O'Gorman and Acting Chairman McAdoo, of the national committee, were grouped behind the presidential nominee as he leaned over the rail of the stand and delivered a speech devoted chiefly to the tariff.

The crowd was so large that hundreds of the Governor were unable to hear him and shouted: "Turn this way, Governor."

"You see, my beauty is something they want to look at everywhere," laughed the Governor, and the crowd responded with cheers. "By the way," he added, "I was paid the high compliment the other day of being told that I looked like an eagle."

The crowd laughed again and the Governor turned seriously to a discussion of tariff issues.

"We have the right to look to our government," he said, "not to support us, but to remove the obstacles to our individual self-support."

"They say prices have risen all over the world. Yes, they have, and they have risen faster and higher in high tariff countries than in low tariff countries."

"Take the price of meat, for instance, and the price of meat is at the heart of the business, for it is meat that makes the blood red and makes work easier. The price of meat has gone up 30 to 40 per cent in ten years in this country, and the price of American meat has not gone up a fraction of a cent per pound in London markets."

"The argument for protection," he continued, "when there is domestic competition is different from the argument for protection where there is no domestic competition. The tariff enables certain gentlemen to get behind it and say, 'We are all of us secure; why cut one another's throats; why not stand together?' and they did with reference to meat without incurring the danger of the provisions of the law and meat circulars quoted."

The Governor here referred to the circular letter, revealed during the trial of the meat packers in Chicago, in which appropriate prices for meat were suggested, and he said, "With a gentility unsurpassed in the history of business etiquette, the suggestion was always accepted."

Schedule K also was discussed by the Governor, who told of a conversation recently with a prominent woolen manufacturer, who, he said, admitted that Schedule K was wrong.

The Governor declared that the business men of the country were by no means dishonest, and that as soon as business men realized that they were profiting wrongly they would turn to a more legitimate process.

The Governor remarked here that those who objected to the tariff only because of an uneven distribution of its benefits and those who were willing to have the trusts "stay as they are," but under the control of the

WORK PLentiful, LABOR SCARCE;
UNSKILLED WORKMEN AT $2 A DAY,
NINE HOURS, DIFFICULT TO GET

Columbus, O., Sept. 13.—Laborers send us laborers. This is the distress signal that comes into the Columbus free employment office every day.

The bureau is enabled to supply only a small part of the demand. Not since the opening of the bureau has there been such a demand for unskilled laborers as at present, and at no time has the bureau been in position to supply so small a percentage of the demands.

Will F. Hauck, superintendent of the bureau said Friday that he could place 200 unskilled laborers within an hour if he only had the applications. Many of the large contracting firms in the city find it impossible to keep a full supply of unskilled labor. One firm which offers $2 a day for unskilled labor, promises payment at the end of each day's work, but on these tempting terms it is unable to get all the men needed.

Wages for unskilled labor range from $1.75 to $2 a day. Some contractors require only nine hours a day at the larger wage.

Calls for farm hands have been flooding the bureau. Their request for such is not confined to the farming district about Columbus, but calls come from most every section of the state. The corn crop will be ready for harvest within a few days. Farmers will experience considerable difficulty in obtaining hands in garner it.

"No man need to be without work in Columbus if he really wants to work and is able to stand it," Mr. Hauck said.

Of all classes of labor the greatest shortage is in domestic servants.

"Neither love nor money seems to be an inducement for girls to do housework," Mr. Hauck said. "He could place 25 girls for housework at $4 to $6 a week at once if he could only get the applications."

Three things serve to keep girls out of the home, Mr. Hauck learns from their own confessions. The first is that their days of work are seven a week; second, the late dinner hour in most families compels girls to work till late in the night; third, the girls feel they are looked upon with contempt. Domesticity, Mr. Hauck says, agree that there are exceptions to these rules, but that they are rare.

"THIRTEEN IS MY LUCKY NUMBER," SAID GOVERNOR WILSON TODAY, AND TOLD THE REASON WHY

Seagirt, N. J., Sept. 13.—On this Friday, the 13th day of the month, Governor Woodrow Wilson sat in seat No. 13 in a parlor car returning to Seagirt today from his New York state trip. The presidential candidate liked the coincidence.

"Thirteen is my lucky number," he said. "I usually get seat 13 or room 13 wherever I go. The number 13 has run through my life constantly."

Government, "declining to attack the central difficulty of the problem," and a man who said this was "utterly unable to solve the questions of our life, and hasn't nerve enough to get to the center."

The Governor referred to the tariff as a "malignant growth that required surgical operation."

"If I am a surgeon and you are a sufferer," he asked, "will I see that your declining years are made happy? I will perform an operation, but I will not cut a single tissue that is wholesome. I am going to cut out the diseased portion and save your life. The man who does not propose to cut the deadly thing out is a quack and not a surgeon. Don't let the quack deceive you."

While Governor Wilson was speaking a portion of the circular handstand on which he was standing cracked ominously, but did not give way.

The other speakers were United States Senator O'Gorman, Governor Dix and Lieutenant Governor Conway, President of the State Fair Commission, which gave a luncheon to the visiting guests after the speechmaking.

Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany Hall leader, greeted Governor Wilson at the hotel upon his arrival and again at the luncheon.

After the luncheon Governor Wilson and his party watched some of the races from the grand stand, and as the Presidential candidate left the stand two photographers halted him. He hesitated for a moment, and Governor Dix, Charles F. Murphy, Senator O'Gorman and others grouped themselves around him.

"Make the rest of the group," said Governor Wilson to the photographers as he hurried into the club house.

Rebel Leader Expecting to Attack
Monday Promises to Protect

Douglas, Ariz., Sept. 13.—Rebels have begun an attack on El Tigre, the American mining settlement just south of the border at this point according to advices received today. There are 75 American men and six American women isolated in the camp which is defended by only a few federals. The attacking rebels are said to be led by General Imes Salazar.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 13.—After firing a few shots into Agua Prieta the rebels that have been threatening an attack on the town disappeared in a southwesterly direction today. There was no battle according to advices received.

Mexico City, Sept. 13.—Twelve hundred rurales and 500 state police have been brought into Mexico City to prepare for the attack Emiliano Zapata has threatened to make on the capital September 16. These added to the garrison of infantry already give a force of about 3,000 men for the defense of the city.

The rurales are patrolling the streets and the suburbs in mounted squads of 25 to 75 men night and day, while the church towers of the capital are posted with sentries to watch the streets and see that no rioting starts.

An order has been issued forbidding groups of more than five persons to congregate at any point within the city, and the mounted police have orders to ride down and disperse gatherings of more than this number.

A searchlight has been installed on the tower of the highest building in the city. Great beams of light from this large reflector wander at random over the city all night, permitting sentries beside the searchlight to see what is going on in distant sections of the capital.

As was done at the end of the Diaz regime, machine guns have been posted on the roof of the Banco Nacional, the National Treasury, the National Palace at Chapultepec, the official residence of the president. Along the suburbs through which Zapata has announced he will make his attack especially heavy guards have been posted, and the barracks in each of these small towns has been provided with rapid fire guns and extra supplies of rifles and ammunition.

Zapata has assured foreigners that their rights will be respected and urges them to fly the American flag over their homes and places of business, so that his raiders may know whom to protect in case mobs attempt violence toward any one other than Mexicans.

AMERICAN ARMY MAY TAKE HAND IN FIGHTING

Washington, Sept. 13.—American troops may take a hand in the fighting at Agua Prieta if bombs fall in Douglas, Ariz., or lives are menaced on the American side of the Mexican boundary. This was intimated today at the headquarters of the general staff of the army following the statement that rebel leaders would disregard warning that they must not fire in the direction of Douglas. Troop commanders have blanket instructions to prevent a repetition of the killing of innocent Americans in Douglas during the Madero rebellion. These are broad enough to cover practically any contingency and it is made plain that any reasonable action by the commanders would be upheld by the war department.

PROGRESSIVES
OPEN CAMPAIGN
AT AKRON SEPT. 21

Columbus, Sept. 13.—With an afternoon meeting in Grace Park, Akron, and an evening meeting in Central Armory, Cleveland, the first state campaign of the Progressive party will be formally opened September 21.

Governor Hiram W. Johnson of California, candidate for vice president, will be the principal speaker at both meetings. It was to secure the presence of the tornado orator of California that the Progressive state central committee, at its meeting here yesterday, fixed the day for the 21st.

Other speakers, including Arthur I. Garfield, candidate for governor, and some of the candidates on the state ticket, will speak at the Akron meeting, which is expected to be the more important half of the dual opening of the Progressive campaign.

WAR WITH MEXICO?

The news dispatches from Washington and Beverly indicate that the national administration believes itself confronted by the possible necessity of extensive armed intervention by this country in Mexico for the purpose of restoring peace there. The public has been somewhat startled thereat.
It had thought that danger past.

The turbulent condition of affairs in Mexico is a matter of common knowledge. The country is being harried by bands of revolutionists and bandits, and the Madero government has thus far been unable to suppress them. Possibly Americans who have remained in Mexico are in danger, but long ago they were warned to obtain safely by returning to the United States. In this situation the American people as a whole can see no reason for war with Mexico, with its inevitable sacrifice of lives and money—for armed intervention of sufficient extent to restore order would probably be resisted by the Mexican people and that would mean war in effect if not in name. The public realizes, moreover, that pressure is being brought to bear upon the President by financial interests whose heavy Mexican investments are imperiled. And neither in that can it see a good reason for such intervention as seems to be contemplated.

The Americans on this side of the Mexican border must be protected.
Those in the interior of Mexico who are non-combatants must be assured
the immunities of non-combatants.
But if this country is drawn into war with Mexico, the cause must be more compelling than any that has yet appeared, or it will be in opposition to the wishes of the people of the United States. And they would surely find the means to make their resentment effective.

There can be no "social justice"
which the third-term party advocates so vociferously, until there is economic and industrial justice. Until the tariff has been revised downwards and the great monopolistic interests are shorn of their power there can be no peace or plenty for the plain people of this country.

Woodrow Wilson is the only candidate for the Presidency who stands squarely on the platform of tariff revision and against the power of the trusts.

The third-term candidate and his party managers are pleading in loud voices for the votes of the common people, and at the same time reaching out for the financial support of the great interests.

A recent circular letter addressed to heads of great corporations quotes the third-term party platform on corporations, and then asks for a $500.00 contribution. There would seem to be an inference that the third-term party would be useful to the corporations, otherwise why ask for the contribution?

WAR OF THE REP. FACTIONS

(Philadelphia Record.)

It is not our quarrel, of course, but as citizens of Pennsylvania, of the United States and of the whole wide world, we want to raise our voice in protest against this everlastingly tiresome wrangling among Bosses Flinn and Penrose, Chairman Hillis and the two-faced Wasson, about the Republican and Bull Moose electors of this state. If they only knew how disgusted everybody is by their backing and filling, their petty playing for position and their hypocritical talk about principle and honor, they would hide themselves in some dark corner and settle their differences in half an hour. The only consolation is that the wearisome display of political

"TLL JOIN THAT PROCESSION."

trickery is making hundreds of votes for Wilson every day. If Penrose and Flinn keep up their bickering much longer it will be entirely immaterial what decision they finally come to.

Perhaps the Taft leaders can force all of the Roosevelt men out of the Republican party, but what sort a remnant will they have left?

The Republican party does not seem to be getting credit for the bumper crops this year.

This cruel war between the Republican factions is too much for Senator Cummins of Iowa. He is going to hike off to Europe to escape the consequences that are bound to occur in making stump speeches to audiences that will be so evenly divided between Taft Stand-patters and Roosevelt Progressives. He will stay away till election time.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Value of "Forty Winks."

A health writer quotes with approval the proverb regarding sleep, "Six hours for a man, seven for a woman and eight for a fool." "Women," he says, "as a rule, are light sleepers. Sleep is not so necessary in advanced years as with young persons because the old need only to repair the daily waste of tissue, whereas the young require, in addition, much energy for growth." The remarkable restorative effects of a few minutes' sleep in the daytime receive an interesting explanation. "As a rule," says the doctor, "with healthy persons the intensity of sleep and therefore its refreshing effects are greatest in the first hour of the night and gradually diminish.
This may be taken as the explanation of the well known fact that 'forty winks' after dinner or after a period of stress produce quite a noticeable recupera-tion of the powers, which is also the reason that some persons can do with much less sleep than others."

Some people don't take advice even when they pay for it.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

Neddy Was Clever
Enough to Get
His Carrot

The Donkey Trotted to His Master.

THE clock struck for Jack and Evelyn to go to bed. Oh, dear, how much sooner than they expected that tiresome old clock sometimes struck!

"Come along, chicks," daddy said, "and I'll tell you how Neddy, the donkey, fooled the baker's boy."

"Neddy was a handsome young donkey, and his master made a great pet of him."

"Fritz, the baker's new boy, turned up his nose at the idea of driving a donkey. Fritz thought a donkey was a stupid animal that did not amount to much."

"The first time Fritz was told to take out the donkey cart he learned differently."

"The baker was busy, and he said to Fritz, 'Go out to the field in the back of my house, catch the donkey and harness him into the cart, then drive round to the shop, and I will tell you where you are to go.'"

"Fritz wished to please his new master, and so he ran as fast as he could to the field and climbed over with the halter to catch the donkey."

"Fritz followed the donkey about the field, but Neddy would not be caught by any trick that the boy could think of."

"Plague take the little beast!" exclaimed Fritz, at last losing his temper.

"There seemed to be no way of coaxing the donkey to have the halter slipped over his head, and feeling very angry, the boy went back to the shop."

"Where's the donkey and the cart?" asked his master, who was waiting at the door of the shop.

"He wouldn't let me get near him," the boy answered.

"Did you coax him?" asked the baker.

"Yes, sir," answered the boy, "I coaxed the stupid beast!"

"Did you coax him with a carrot, as I told you?"

"Why, no, sir," replied the boy, "Being in a hurry, I thought I wouldn't bother stopping at the stable for the carrot."

"Then don't call that donkey stupid. You're the idiot. Neddy's not foolish enough to put his head into the halter till he gets his carrot. You've wasted an hour with your foolishness. Now let me show you something."

"The baker went to the field with the boy. He had a carrot in his hand and called: 'Neddy, Neddy! Carrot, carrot!'"

"The donkey trotted over to his master, and in a minute the halter was over his head, and he was marching out of the field, happily munching his carrot."

"Fritz never called Neddy stupid again."

Makes Soiled Garments Look Like New

Tetrola, the New Cleaning Fluid. Can't Catch Fire and is Fast Taking the Place of Dangerous Inflammable Cleaners.

With TETROLA you can make soiled, stained or spotted garments look like new in a few minutes.

It does not affect the most delicate colors, and grease spots, varnish spots or any other kind of spots vanish like magic.

Cleans silk, satin, wool, linen, kid gloves, feathers, tapestry and leather better than any other fluid.

TETROLA is cheaper to use than gasoline and other inflammable fluids because a very little does a whole lot of cleaning.

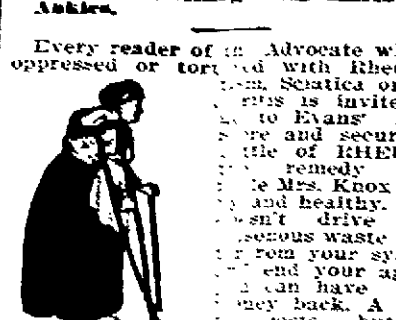

It has a pleasant odor, too, and evaporates so rapidly that a garment can be worn an hour after being cleaned with TETROLA.

All druggists sell it in two sizes—25 and 50 cents.

Tetrola Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

HOW WILL THE WOMEN VOTE?

May Decide to Make a Showing For the Progressives.

PARTY DECLARED FOR THEM.

New Cannon, When He Was Speaker of the House, Managed to Keep a Quorum in Washington During the Closing Days of Congress—Mann Not For the Senate.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Sept. 13.—[Special.]—What are the women going to do in states where women have the ballot when they come to vote for president this fall? I ask this question in view of the fact that delegations of women appeared before the platform committees of the Republican and Democratic conventions and asked to have a woman suffrage plank incorporated in the platform. Both parties refused to do so. The Progressive party declared unequivocally for woman suffrage.

The states of Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, California, Idaho and Washington are equal suffrage states. Even stalwart regulars say there is every indication that Roosevelt will carry California, and his friends claim that he will get Washington and Idaho. With Colorado accounted doubtful. But even the most sanguine do not expect he will get either Utah or Wyoming.

And yet the women may decide to make a showing for the party which declares for woman suffrage.

Not a National Question.

But woman suffrage is not a real national question any more than the recall of judges and judicial decisions are national. Our federal judges are appointed for life, and it would mean a revolution to change conditions so that they could be recalled. The initiative and referendum is not a national question; it cannot be applied to national legislation, yet all these questions are made issues in national politics. Therefore woman suffrage can be made such an issue.

We do not hear very much about it, and it is not very apt to figure in a campaign where the personal equation cuts so much of a figure.

Uncle Joe Knew How.

About the close of the session of congress Speaker Clark and Leader Underwood were bending every effort to keep a quorum in the city and were not very successful. "Uncle Joe knew how to keep a quorum," declared an experienced observer. "He always had a public building bill which he held back until all other business was concluded. More than two-thirds of the members had 'pork' in that bill, and they remained right on the job until they nailed it down."

But this year there was no public building bill.

Has No Senatorial Hopes.

In almost any other state a man who made himself as conspicuous in legislation as James R. Mann would be considered a senatorial possibility, but no one seems to mention Mann in that connection. Nor does Mann expect to wear the Illinois toga. In every contest with the senate he takes a prominent stand in favor of the rights of the house. "I am prepared," he said in the last contest, "to let them know that the house will not be held up by the senate or held up on the street with a bludgeon." He also used that famous phrase "millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute."

The man who has senatorial ambitions does not defy the senate while he is a member of the house.

Sleeping Soundly.

With a flourish of trumpets the house passed a bill to prevent trading in cotton futures. All efforts to have it amended so as to include other farm products failed. It was claimed that the most disastrous gambling was in cotton. And the bill went to sleep in the senate. Just in what pigeon hole of which particular committee room is not important.

The bill to prevent speculating in cotton is in that sleep that knows no waking. A cyclone could not drive it through the senate during the short session.

No More Junk Wanted.

"Now that the speaker has gone I hope they won't send in any more junk," remarked Wallace Bassford, secretary to Champ Clark. He was then trying to get rid of a clam shell, a little toy from the Philippines weighing 212 pounds and 41 inches long and 26 wide. Congressman Olmsted, who has given considerable attention to Philippine affairs, had it wished on to him first, but he turned it over to the speaker. Perhaps they will stow it away with the touring car which the house bought for the speaker, but which has not been used by Champ Clark.

"Looking Forward."

During one of the numerous discussions over tenure of office Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska was advocating the retention of men who were doing good service and opposing the limitation of four years.

"If the Senator from Nebraska," remarked Senator Bailey, "will cast his eyes forward beyond the 4th of March he will find much need of some of those places for the worthy Democrats who have been kept out for so many years."

Betting is a fool's argument, but we don't realize it until we lose.

HEAT OFTEN TENDS TO MAKE WOMEN PALE AND WEAK.

They Neglect Their Bowels and the Poisons Vitalize the Blood.

Hot weather has a very weakening effect on women. They become too languid to exercise and have appetite for light, tasty foods, like salads and other cold concoctions, which do not digest readily and tend to increase their natural tendency to constipation.

At this season women, especially, need all their strength to resist the enervating effect of the heat. Good digestion and regularity of the bowels are essential. Some fruits have laxative properties, but they are uncertain in their effect, and are not generally advised. A mild bowel stimulant and digestant, such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is preferable because it is certain in its effect, natural in its action and wholly safe. Take a dose of Syrup Pepsin at night and by morning the sick headache and indigestion will be gone.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold in drug stores everywhere, and costs fifty cents a bottle; a larger size, intended for family use, costs one dollar. If you have never used Syrup Pepsin and would like a free trial bottle, postpaid, write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 406 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

BALDWIN RENOMINATED WITHOUT OPPOSITION

Hartford, Conn., September 13.—Governor Simon E. Baldwin was renominated Thursday without opposition at the adjourned session of the Democratic State Convention. Other state officers and seven Presidential Electors also were named, and a platform was adopted.

The renomination of Governor Baldwin was greeted with enthusiastic cheering.

The platform endorses the declaration of principles of the Baltimore convention, ratifies its nomination for President and Vice President, commends the record of the Democratic House of Representatives and favors the direct election of United States Senators, the direct primary, initiative and referendum and the "further extension of suffrage to women."

The attraction at the Auditorium Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 16 and 17 will be America's greatest emotional actress, Blanche Walsh, who will appear in Tolstoy's great immortal drama, "Resurrection." They Come Out Boldly.
At the Auditorium Sunday night, the residents of Newark will have an opportunity of seeing Dr. Fddy, the celebrated theosophist and Spiritualist medium. It is claimed that there is no man who has excited more comment and he has been chosen by the adepts to attempt the conclusion of the work left undone by Mme. Blavatsky high priestess of theosophy and mistress of the occult science. Dr. Fddy's tests are made on a fully lighted stage and delegates from the audience are always invited to investigate. His methods and his work have excited the attention of the most renowned theosophists and have in some measure succeeded in elevating the subject of spiritualism above its popular superstitions. His experiments have met with the endorsement of the Royal Society of London, and of Ionides the Greek philosopher, and many other distinguished persons and societies. The phenomena that will be produced in the light are slate writing, supernatural visions, materializations and de-materialization.

NUMBER 57

(Communicated.)

In reading the newspaper last evening I came across an article headed "Fire Alarm Taxes Telephone Service to Limit." After reading the article a thought came to me that this could be remedied by changing the system of signals, or dividing the Public Square into four blocks or sections, and using a different number for each of the four sections instead of 57 for one section as now. The square could be divided into an eastern, western, northern and southern section. This would give four squares or numbers to be used, one designating each section. It would not only greatly relieve the telephone company, but three-fourths of the merchants whose property and business is conducted on the public square. As a suggestion I would make the western section or block contain all the property west of Hudson avenue and Third street and between Locust and Railroad streets; eastern block all property east of Second street and between Locust and Railroad street. North and south the portions between the eastern and western blocks and north and south of the public square. This arrangement would not only relieve the telephone companies, but as I said before three-fourths of the merchants would have no cause for alarm unless their signal had been given. I use the telephone every time 57 is sounded, as that is the quickest means of finding out, especially at night, whether my property is in danger. I would not need to call, unless my number was sounded, under the suggested plan. W. J. B.

OFFICIALS OF DAYTON HOME EXONERATED

G. A. R. COMMITTEE SAYS, HOWEVER, SYSTEM IS REPUGNANT TO AMERICAN HOME IDEALS.

Boon Started for Judge W. R. Warnock of Urbana for Commander-in-Chief.

Los Angeles, Sept. 12.—Delegates to the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic held an all-day secret session, receiving reports of officers and among other things, virtually exonerating the officials of the National Soldiers' Home at Dayton of the charges of mismanagement.

Although it found that a compound was served instead of butter, and that mattresses "were exceedingly thin for comfort," the special committee appointed to investigate the charges against the home in the main exonerated the management.

The committee said food was supplied in abundance and no complaint was found among the 3000 inmates.

"The system is a beautifully executed bit of administrative work in feeding," says the report, "but it is repugnant to the idea of home and meals considered from our American standpoint. It may be the best possible solution of the problem, but it certainly smacks more of a military camp or a prison than of a home for the worthy though unfortunate men who saved the nation."

The committee criticized the soldiers' home board on the score that competent members of the home occupied high clerical positions for which $20 and $25 was paid, respectively, when similar positions occupied by civilians paid from $75 to $125.

Commander-in-Chief Trimble, in his annual report, urged the delegates to take action for the erection of a fitting memorial to the "loyal women of our country" to commemorate their great services and devotion, their willing sacrifices and unequalled fortitude during the period of the civil war.

That the income of the G. A. R. was growing less and less each year and that an increase in the per capita tax from 3 1/2 to 5 cents would be necessary in order to raise funds sufficient to meet demands, was the report filed by Quartermaster General Stowitz. In 1890, the report said, there were 400,000 members in good standing, each paying 3 1/2 cents per capita, but in 1912 there was less than half that number, making the yearly loss more than $7000 from the per capita tax alone.

Commander-in-Chief Trimble was presented by members of the Grand Army with a diamond badge, an insignia of a past commander-in-chief. It is valued at $1000.

A boom for Judge W. R. Warnock of Urbana, O., for commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic was launched yesterday.

offer a reward of $15 for the return of the papers and the gold and silver cases stolen from the safe.

The papers, says the priest, are absolutely of no value to any one but himself. He must wait for a period of one year to have them duplicated, which cannot be done without more or less trouble. The chalice would be worth but a nominal sum to the burglars, not nearly so much as is offered for its return.

"I will guarantee," said Father O'Boylan, "to protect whoever returns the property and will not reveal their identity. I think any one who knows me regards my word as sufficient guarantee that I will keep faith with them."

Father O'Boylan states that the property may be returned him at the parochial residence at any time without danger of arrest.

At the time of the burglary, the priest's home was entered about 1:30 o'clock in the morning, the safe blown and the articles mentioned above were stolen. A short time before, the safe in the office of the Consumers' Brewing company was blown and the yeasts did not succeed in getting into the strong box, though more than $100 in cash was taken from a cash drawer.

The Princess is said to be an excellent cook and housewife, and has followed her imperial father's precepts in regard to the four K's for women—Kinder, Kirche, Kleider and Kueche—meaning children, church, clothes and cookery. Devotedly fond of children, a regular attendant at religious services, able to sew and darn, and an expert cook, she has all the qualifications set forth by her father for the making of the perfect woman.

She is said to have objected strenuously to such an arrangement, whereupon the Emperor is reported to have declared, "I will not sacrifice my little one to politics." The Kaiser has also said that the Princess need not seriously consider matrimony until she is twenty-two.

At twenty-two the German Princess is by no means a great beauty, although she has a pleasant and intelligent face, and is amiable and unaffected in manner. She is the youngest child of the Emperor, as well as his only daughter, and is undeniably his favorite. It is said that she is the only

FALL TREE PLANTING.

Much to Be Said in Support of Moving Trees in the Autumn.

There is much to be said in favor of planting fruit trees in the fall. In the first place, there is a larger stock from which to select the trees. In the second place, there is usually more time in the fall than in the hurry of spring work. Besides this, the rains of the winter settle the soil firmly around the roots of the trees, so that they are ready to begin growth in spring at the earliest opportunity.

Fall planting should not be begun too early. The leaves should be off. True, they can be stripped by hand, and this in not a few cases is done too soon in crowding times. The leaves should be left until their beginning to fall it is seen that their important and life giving work is over. Their beginning to fall shows this, and any leaves that remain can then be taken off—will come off easily—and the trees can be dug. This is usually about the beginning of November, and the planting may continue as long as the ground is not frozen.

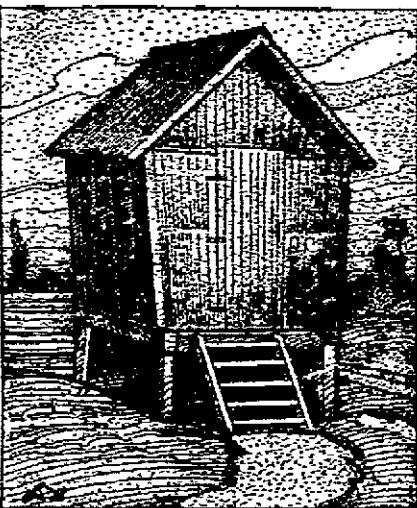

As to the care of the trees, that is the same as in spring planting. The roots are to be exposed to the air as little as possible and on being brought home should be well covered in a trench in the garden or other well protected place, until planted. The covering of the roots in the trench should be with the stems of the trees inclining at an angle of about 45 degrees toward the surface of the ground. In some cases it may be necessary to leave the trees in the trench until spring, and this will be successful if the work is well done. The trench should be at least eighteen inches deep and the soil well worked in among the roots, and after a good rain or two more soil should be thrown on, making the earth above the roots rounding and a foot or so above the surface of the ground.

Perfect planting, other things being equal, consists in placing the tree as nearly as possible in the same condition as that in which it was before being removed—National Stockman and Farmer.

KEEP RATS OUT OF CORN.

Directions For Building a Crib That is Proof Against Them.

Having an order to build a corn house guaranteed rat and mouse proof, I give the method employed, says a writer in the Orange Judd Farmer. The building is twelve feet long, seven feet wide at floor and eight feet wide at eaves; seven foot post with a square pitch roof. Six heavy chestnut posts were set; then the 6 by 6 inch sills were put on. Floor timbers about 4 by 5 inches were laid on the sills. Over these was laid a covering of galvanized iron extending about two inches beyond the timbers all around, this being bent down. Over this a double floor was laid, and the seams in the iron were nailed thoroughly to the under side of the flooring. The frame (2 by 4 inch joist) was next set up. The slats, 2 1/2 by 1 inch by seven feet long, were then nailed on, leaving an opening in one end for door three feet wide by seven feet. This being in the center gave room for a crib two feet wide at bottom, two feet, six inches wide at top and twelve feet long on each side.

The entire crib was then covered with fine galvanized wire cloth, three meshes to the inch, fastened to the metal on the floor timbers and extending up to the roof line. The rafters were then put on, and over these more of the galvanized iron was used, bringing it well down on the wire cloth and fastening securely. Over this the roof, which is of boards, painted, was placed. The cribs were made narrow, as the corn was very green.

Orchard and Garden.

Always plant small fruits on deep rich alluvial soil, one which carries plenty of humus.

Turn up all dirty land thoroughly to expose the weed roots to frost and repeat this at intervals.

One of the first requisites to keep in mind in selecting an orchard location is that it be well drained.

Fine, well rotted manure is a good mulch for tea roses. Prune by cutting the blossom lavishly with long stems in order to reduce vigorous blooming branches.

Constant and persistent warfare with the sprayer against the various pests that haunt and damage the orchard is the price of successful and profitable horticulture.

Seldom what they are cracked up to be—Antiques.

We Wear No Manufacturers' Collars

Our cash takes us to the Bargains, no matter where they are to be found and OUR BUYER IS A GREAT BIG BARGAIN FINDER. So many retail shoe dealers have been backed by individual shoe manufacturers that there is little wonder that the cry goes out that shoe prices must advance. They have no alternative but to keep on buying from the men who own them, because they own these factories and cannot progress. We decided that cash was a mighty lever and so when we established the chain of three live stores in three live cities we gave our buyer a liberal drawing account with which to always pay spot cash and directed him to buy whenever and wherever the bargains were the best. This is why we are able to Sell you New Fall up-to-date Shoes at One-Third to One-Half less money, as these Low Prices on Good Footwear testify.

Milady's Diary

Just got back Monday from my vacation. Had the most lovely time imaginable. Went from here to New York, then down the river to Albany—then simply grand—from Albany to Buffalo on the train. Then we decided to take a chance on getting sick and took the boat from Buffalo to Cleveland. Just happened that the lake wasn't rough, so we had a most pleasant voyage. We stayed in Cleveland a few days, and then back to Newark. While in New York I took the opportunity of going through the stores and getting posted on the new styles for Fall. Saw many handsome garments, but resisted the temptation to buy, for the very good reason that prices were so awfully high. They are wearing many of the "Johnny Coats" down there and all of the stores are displaying quantities of Boucle and Chinchilla Coats. I wondered if they would have them in Newark, and to my pleasure I found out that they did. I had occasion to go to the Davies Dry Goods Store yesterday and walking back to the Ready-to-Wear Department in vogue down East. I was complimenting the clerks on their display, and it is simply wonderful, and they told me then that they have all of the new things at once, as the buyer goes to the large markets so often, and believes in getting the new styles first. I can understand now why they do such a tremendous ready-to-wear business. I saw a most beautiful suit and a regular darling of a coat that I am going to have made, and the prices—they are the most reasonable I ever heard of. Going to take some of the girls with me tomorrow to see the pretty things. I know they'll rave over them as much as I did.

GENERAL COMMITTEE WILL MEET TONIGHT

A meeting of the general committee having in charge the coming Lyon meetings, will meet tonight at the Y. M. C. A., and all matters pertaining to the revival will be discussed. The building committee of the tabernacle met there Friday night and talked over plans for lighting the structure.

(By Rev. J. S. Revennaugh, D.D.) It was in February, 1908, in the staid old town of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, that the writer had the pleasure for the first time of meeting Evangelist Milford Hall Lyon. Since then our friendship has grown richer and stronger, until today I count him a brother beloved in Christ.

His coming to Mt. Vernon was in this wise: We seven Protestant ministers then there felt the need of a religious awakening in that gospel-hardened, worldly old city.

Peering around for the right man to make the campaign for us, our attention was called to Mr. Lyon as a man

This is Friday the 13th, but our luck today has been no worse than usual.

Col. Roosevelt is continuing his trip through the west and the membership in the Annanias club is growing.

It took exactly 31 1-2 hours of actual work to build the big tabernacle on Sixth street. This includes seating the building to accommodate 5,000 people.

Of all the excuses for killing a man a chorus girl probably is the poorest.

The animus often is more interesting than the thing itself.

Most of the men who have tried it say the most difficult thing about marriage is keeping in step with the wedding march.

In New York it is still considered comedy's top note, but in the one night stands the nightly spectacle of Lew Fields choking Joe Weber no longer is considered the joke it once was.

It often is difficult for a son to maintain the standard established by his father. Jesse James died with his boots on and a play exploiting his adventures subsequently was written. But his son was recently subjected to the humiliation of being sued for divorce.

Not all of the heroes wear epaulettes. There, for instance, is the man who bows his back at hard labor ten hours every working day.

A man enjoys being chased a little by the women, but he hates to be run down.

His burden by any pessimistic note he strikes while in the services.

His evangelistic campaigns are no mere reformations. With him it is regeneration first as the only strong foundation for permanent reformation. He builds no half-way house where the sinner can stop and ease his conscience until the Holy Spirit passes by, after which he can return again to his wickedness. "OUT AND OUT FOR JESUS" is his watchword.

Another characteristic of his work which one can not but admire is that he spares not himself. He puts every ounce of his strength and every drop of his blood into his work. That intense expression on his face, and outstretching of his hand when he gives the invitation, "Come on, men!" tells one he is no hireling. You can not but feel his hunger for souls.

Lastly, apart from the Holy Spirit's work, the characteristic in Mr. Lyon's campaign which stands out solitarily and alone is his system from start to finish. If soul-saving dare be reverently called a science, then he has caught the vision—a vision others, like Elisha's servant, will still see later on.

There certainly is a place in God's economy for evangelists. The true ones will receive a rich reward.

WHY NOT CURE YOUR RHEUMATISM

Do Not Join the Ranks of Hopeless Sufferers When There Is a Remedy Within Reach.

Why are there so many failures in the treatment of rheumatism? Why are so many sufferers resigned to a life of pain, despairing of a permanent cure?

Because rheumatism defies any treatment that does not build up and purify the blood. The poisons of rheumatism are in the blood and it is only through the blood that the disease can be fought successfully.

Unless the blood is weak and impure, rheumatism cannot get a foothold. When it does the thin and impure blood is not strong enough to overcome the poisons alone. It must be strengthened and purified. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the best blood-building medicine you can take.

Mrs. George Lockard, a farmer's wife, of Landenberg, Pa., found complete relief from rheumatism when she built up and purified the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. She says:

"I suffered for years from rheumatism in the left hip along the sciatic nerve and in the shoulders and hands. I consulted two doctors and while their medicines helped me some, I did not get permanent relief. I suffered so terribly that I used to wish many a time that I was in my grave. My fingers were bent and crippled and I had no use of my left hand for three years. I couldn't step out right with either foot. My suffering took my appetite away and I lost in weight and strength."

"I had been troubled with the rheumatism for over twenty years before I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Then in less than a month's time I was able to walk better. I became able to use my hand and the swelling of the fingers went down. I used the pills until I was cured."

A booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," containing helpful information will be sent free upon request.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of $2.00. 50 cents per box; at $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

"Friday the Thirteenth" Superstition Survives

For the first time this year the thirteenth of a month falls on a Friday, today, and the superstitious will not be easy in their minds—or what passes for mind—until the "hoo-doo" day is over. The unluckiness of Friday and of thirteen has long been proverbial, and a combination of the two naturally constitutes the extreme limit in the way of a "jinx."

That the superstition is taken seriously is shown by the great decrease in weddings on a Friday the thirteenth. The records for the last Friday the thirteenth show that in New York the number of marriage ceremonies performed fell almost to nothing, while in Paris there were none at all. The London papers of the morning following recorded no weddings as having taken place in England, and any marriage of importance in England becomes a matter of record in the London Times or the Morning Post.

In France the effects of the last Friday the thirteenth were felt in nearly all lines of business, but especially by transportation companies. The General Omnibus company of Paris reported a falling off in its receipts for that day of over ten thousand francs. All the traction companies announced statistics that indicated that tens of thousands of Parisians must have abstained from travel and remained closely in their homes on that day.

The Friday superstition is doubtless based on the Crucifixion, with the prejudice against thirteen doubtless arises from the supposition that at the Last Supper of Jesus, when one of the guests proved to be a traitor and conspirator, there were thirteen at the table. Many eminent people have clung to this belief, and it is related by Sir Henry Lucy that the late Queen Victoria once refused to dine until another person was called to make the number at table fourteen. Many otherwise sane and rational people believe that, with thirteen at table, death is certain to claim at least one of the diners before the expiration of the year. This fear is borne out by the mortality tables of life insurance companies, but it is unnecessary to say that the number thirteen has nothing to do with it. The greater the gathering of diners, the greater the chances that death will take at least one of them within a twelvemonth.

Those who wish to show themselves truly brave will hold dinner parties with thirteen guests tonight, break mirrors, spill salt, pass under ladders, cross the paths of black cats and end the happy occasion with a visit to a graveyard at midnight.

Elderly people may recall that today is the fifty-fourth anniversary of a terrible sea disaster that, in its way, was quite as horrible as the recent Titanic catastrophe. It was on September 13, 1858—not a Friday—that the steamer Austria, of the New York and Hamburg line, was burned at sea. The boatswain had been ordered to fumigate the stowage by thrusting a hot iron into a pile of tar. The tar caught fire and in a short time the flames spread over the vessel, rushing with tremendous rapidity through the gangways and hatchways, and cutting off all chance of escape for those on the forward part of the ship. Scenes of indescribable terror and confusion followed, and the panic spread to the crew, so that all but one of the boats were swamped in launching. When the engines stopped the vessel swung around, driving the flames in a new direction, and most of the passengers had to leap into the sea. Two vessels hove in sight during the fire, and picked up about a hundred people, but over four hundred others drowned or were burned to death.

EASY AND SURE WAY TO CURE COLDS

Don't Neglect a Cold—Ely's Cream Balm Will Stop It in the Sneezing Stage.

A cold generally attacks the weakest part, affecting the eyes and ears in some and producing nasal catarrh and throat troubles in others. A cold is due to an inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages, and may be promptly cured with a little Ely's Cream Balm, which immediately relieves the inflammation and all the distressing symptoms, such as sneezing, coughing, running at the nose and eyes, hoarseness, sore throat, fever and headache. One reason why this pure, antiseptic balm acts so quickly is because it is applied directly to the tender, sore surfaces.

Even in severe chronic cases of catarrh, Ely's Cream Balm never fails to quickly and effectually check the poisonous discharge which clogs the head and throat, causing the disgusting hacking, spitting and blowing of the nose. This remedy not only drives out the disease, but heals and strengthens the weakened membranes, thus ending catarrh.

Catarrh is a filthy, disgusting disease. Don't put up with it another day. Get a 50 cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and see how quickly you will be relieved. It is perfectly harmless.

The Wants will sell your house.

LYON, THE MAN.

who had made good in his work. He did all he promised in Mt. Vernon, and is now just closing a splendid campaign in our midst.

When I say "he did all he promised," I mean he took care of our finances and handled every meeting of the series wisely and with a freshness of enthusiasm that makes the whole series cumulative, attractive, and intensely interesting to the very close.

Mr. Lyon, in my judgment, has the characteristics of a good evangelist. First, he treats all the pastors of the union with due respect. Instead of crying down the man who must stay by the stuff, he always upholds his hands.

He preaches a pure, clean-cut gospel. He is not afraid to attack the devil's stronghold and call things by their right names. Were we to epitomize his preaching, it might be put in this sentence, HE MAKES JESUS KING.

Mr. Lyon is always hopeful. However he may feel about half-hearted helpers when he seeks the privacy of his own room, you would not know of

DAMAGES

AGAINST THE CITY FOR $20,000
ASKED IN PETITION OF JOHN TUCKER.

Temporary Injunction Granted on Part of Jacksonville Pike—
General Court News.

Damage in the sum of $20,000 directly traceable to negligence on the part of the city is the basis on which John Tucker brings suit against the city of Newark, through his attorneys, Kibler & Kibler.

The plaintiff, who is the owner of certain real estate abutting on East Main street and extending to the alley between First street and Second street bases his claims on actions of the city council in the year 1888. He states that on June 11, 1888, the city council at a regular session passed a resolution to improve the alley between First street and Second street by cobbling and grading. In pursuance of the resolution the city engineer prepared and submitted to the council the plan and profile of the proposed improvement and the same was adopted and confirmed by ordinance and became the true and established grade of the alley.

In September of the following year the plaintiff desired to erect a two-story brick building covering the west portion of his property and later a two story brick addition covering the residue. He applied to the city engineer for the grade of the alley, and this officer together with the street committee of the council gave him the grade and as evidence drove stakes on his property where the building was to be located. Following this, Mr. Tucker affirms, he erected his building in conformance with the grade, on which he had a right to rely, and erected valuable and lasting improvements.

The affiant recited that instead of making the improvement and bringing the alley to the grade the city neglected it, in fact, wholly abandoned the work, failing to gutter the alley or provide means to prevent the surface water from flowing into the plaintiff's land and into his building. At times the city has caused the center of the alley to be filled increasing the flow of water into the plaintiff's property during wet periods.

Mr. Tucker states that he has suffered great damage because the water has rotted the timbers, making frequent repairs necessary, and keeping the basement so damp as to prevent its use or rental. He has been unable to rent the basement and the value of the building has been affected for the reason that the use of the rear entrance has been prevented.

All these things have worked a hardship to the plaintiff and damaged him, as he affirms, in the sum of $20,000, for which he prays judgment.

Woolard, by his attorneys Flory and Flory, has secured a temporary injunction in common pleas court restraining the agents and servants of the county commissioners from entering upon his land for the purpose of altering the course of Hog Run, incidental to the macadamizing of the Newark and Jacksonville road.

against the county commissioners recites that he is the owner of nine acres in Leasing township, abutting on the road in question, and that the south line of his land follows in part the meanderings of Hog Run. Where the road crosses the stream there is a bridge, which he states, has aided in keeping the stream in its course.

The plaintiff says that without permission surveys have been made on his land and steps taken to change the course of the stream, and which, if carried out, will detach about half an acre from his land without providing any means of access except through the water. He continues that the change will cause the stream to wash against his land and will result in the confusion of the loss of the line between his property and that adjoining.

The court granted the order asked with a bond of $200.

Verdicts in the Ditch Case. The matter of the county ditch No. 39, petitioned for by C. W. Meggenhofen, which came to the probate court on appeal of Francis M. Stoolfire from the decision of the county commissioners, was ended yesterday afternoon when the jury in the case returned the following verdicts, that the proposed ditch will be conducive to the public health, convenience and welfare; that the route is practicable; that the compensation due the appellant is the sum of seventy-five cents.

The case was appealed to the probate court on the following particulars whether the ditch will be conducive to the public health, convenience and welfare; whether the route is practicable; from the non-allowance of compensation for land appropriated; from the assessment of benefits against Francis M. Stoolfire for cost of construction.

The verdict of the jury reduces the compensation granted to the appellant by the commissioners from one dollar to seventy five cents.

EXAMINATION COUNTY RECORDS WAS COMPLETED

Examination of the county records, which has been in progress since early last May, was completed this afternoon by D. F. Walter of Columbus, and it is safe to promise that the records of the county are in good shape. There are always a number of silent technical and clerical errors which do not really endanger the finances of the county, but Mr. Walter says that the Licking county records are remarkably free from even these. The official report will be filed with the state examiners' office at Columbus immediately and will probably be in the hands of the local officials about November 1, when the public will be shown the result of the six months' examination.

Contempt Proceedings. A summons in contempt was issued by Judge Hunter in the Probate court this morning demanding that John Seabold be brought before the court to answer a complaint filed by his erstwhile wife, Maude Seabold. The Seabold family featured in a divorce litigation a few months ago and the husband ordered to pay the sum of $29 alimony to the divorced wife every month. This he has failed to do and will have to show good and sufficient reason for his apparent negligence.

Autograph hunters hereafter will have to pay a mark for each request to a member of the Protective Association of German authors.
